Core Air Conditioning Ltd are the sole distributor for Carrier and Vertiv Thermal Management, Clint and Novair commercial, industrial and computer room air conditioning products in Ireland. We also supply the full range of Fabric-Air, Lu-ve Group and Jacir Gohl Air Treatment equipment and can offer a full package of air conditioning and process related products. Core combine this product portfolio with excellent technical support and a highly-qualified service team that, in addition to commissioning and trouble-shooting, also deliver customised maintenance packages. These ensure the optimum performance of installed systems, prolong equipment lifespan, and prevent the consequences of system failure or total shut down. Core's service agreements are highly-flexible and are designed for each individual installation. After a thorough site survey, the right combination of options are selected for each particular facility. In addition to service, repair and planned maintenance, diagnostic and proactive recommendations for improvement are also provided, along with emergency response. Core's team of service engineers have wide-ranging experience across all HVAC equipment, covering all brands, and so offer all-embracing comprehensive solutions.
