Rationel windows and doors for Ireland For over 30 years, Rationel Windows & Doors has been one of the leading window manufacturers in Ireland. With a tradition that started 60 years ago in Denmark, Rationel has constantly improved techniques and methods, so that we have both the product and expertise to meet today's demanding standards for windows and doors. Design, quality, performance, energy efficiency and security are just some of the considerations needed when choosing your windows, all of which are to the fore in the Rationel range of products.
