Pat O'Donnell & Co is Ireland's leading supplier of heavy machinery and construction equipment. The company, which was founded in 1970, represents international market leaders in the machinery business such as Volvo, Volvo Penta, Rammer, Sennebogen and Avant Tecno. The success of Pat O'Donnell & Co. can be attributed to a policy of matching quality, proven products to the needs and demands of the Irish market. The company, however, does not stop at sales and three out of every four members of staff are involved full-time in after-sales aspects of the operation: spare parts, workshop repairs, field service and technical training. The company operates from a Head Office in Dublin and can service customers all over Ireland for sales and after-sales care with its branches in Cork, Galway and Portadown. Pat O'Donnell & Co.'s products are to be found working in an almost endless array of Irish businesses, from civil engineering projects to sawmills, from quarries to mushroom composting.
